Spring Branch ISD's December, 2009 Employee of the Month
Mr. Jesse Ochoa
Frostwood Elementary

For nearly 3 decades, Mr. Jesse Ochoa's efforts as head custodian have helped Frostwood Elementary's facilities sparkle and Frostwood's students beam with confidence and pride not only in their school, but in themselves.

Though his official title is Custodial Foreman, Principal Jan Griffin notes, "Our Mr. Jesse, does so much more than his job description. He is always there, working behind the scenes, to keep our school well-maintained and safe for our children...He always has a smile for everyone he passes in the halls; whether it is a student, co-worker, or parent." He is also appreciated for engaging students who find themselves misusing their free time, "never missing the opportunity to teach a little work ethic along the way."

Campus leaders also note that Mr. Jesse is clearly admired by each member of his custodial team. He never waivers in letting them know of concerns and is the first to look for ways to praise their jobs.

SBISD applauds Mr. Jesse Ochoa for his 27 years of distinguished service at Frostwood Elementary. "Mr. Jesse is such an important part of the Frostwood team, and he exemplifies the values spoken in the Frostwood Creed: truthful, trustworthy, doing his personal best, treating others with respect, and doing his part to keep Frostwood safe and clean."
